Operative Masonry in Action in Lakewood

Operative masonry was alive and well this fall at our Lakewood Masonic Temple as a crew from the M-A Building and Maintenance Company completed the task of repointing our building's exterior above the water table (corresponding on the inside to the Lodge Room balcony floor level and up). As part of the project a number of stones on the chimney were removed and reset and various other stones were patched.

By now our faithful readers will recall the admonition from the National Park Service's Technical Preservation Division that "uncontrolled moisture is the most prevalent cause of deterioration in older and historic buildings." The front line of this ongoing battle is a building's exterior; in our case a clay tile roof, a Bedford limestone façade and many, many windows. Our exterior masonry was last repointed in the early 1980s.

The next important steps in our continuing battle against water will be to replace the Lodge Room balcony windows and to repoint the balance of our exterior masonry. Critical projects such as these are made possible in large measure by gifts to The Lakewood Masonic Foundation and/or The Lakewood Masonic Temple Company. Donors desiring preferred federal income and/or estate tax treatment will want to donate to our Foundation. Gifts to our Temple Company are greatly appreciated but are not deductible for federal income or estate tax purposes. You can make your important contribution by using the form on page 11.

Happy 100th, Neighbor!

When the cornerstone was laid for our Lakewood Masonic Temple in 1915 (see the photo to the right), what was then the Church of the Redeemer's "new" building had already stood for nine years on its corner site across Andrews Avenue. Members of the First Jerusalem Church of Rockport, as Lakewood was then known, held their first service on the site in 1848 in a small frame structure. By the turn of the century the frame building was too small for the number of worshipers and was moved to the rear of the lot to function as a parish house. The United Latvian Lutheran congregation of Cleveland purchased the buildings in 1963. In 1972 the old parish hall was demolished to make way for a new church hall and education wing. In addition to housing the church and the Latvian Credit Union, the Latvian church building is a center for many related groups serving the Cleveland and Ohio Latvian Communities.

Charitable Donations From Your IRA

Last August Congress adopted the Pension Protection Act of 2006 which includes a provision permitting taxpayers who are 70-1/2 or older to make tax-free direct transfers from their Individual Retirement Accounts to charitable organizations such as The Lakewood Masonic Foundation. Note that 70-1/2 is also the age at which an individual must begin taking IRA distributions.

Both traditional and Roth IRAs are covered by this change. Other retirement plans such as 401(k), 403(b) annuities, defined benefit and contribution plans, profit-sharing plans and Keoghs are NOT eligible. An individual may transfer up to $100,000 per year; $200,000 for a couple provided that each individual has an IRA with at least this amount in his/her personal account.

Distributions must be made by December 31 of each year. Note that the current law applies only to tax years 2006 and 2007. The distribution check must be made payable to the charity, although it can be mailed to you, the plan participant, to forward to the charity along with your personal correspondence.

Your donation to The Lakewood Masonic Foundation will enable us to carry on our important historic preservation, charity and education work. As always, you are encouraged to consult your legal and tax advisors before making this new type of contribution directly from your IRA.

Going Up? New Elevator Installed

Believe it or not, Lakewood Temple now boasts a brand new elevator.

Long hoped for, sorely needed and much discussed—it has been problem no. 1 for many a day. “It can’t be done” was the general verdict. The Temple Board, however, is not made up of the type of men who believe things can’t be done. They finally worked out a way and, previous to the summer vacation, a contract for the installation was awarded.

The new elevator is of the automatic type with a capacity of eight passengers and a platform forty-five by sixty inches. It was installed by the Westinghouse Electric and Manufacturing Company.

You will find it just inside the rear entrance, off the banquet room.

Maybe there is a Santa Claus, after all.

—From The Masonic Outlook, Vol. I No. 1, September 1935

Editor’s Note: This original elevator is still in operation. Other than routine inspection and maintenance, the only significant change has been to add an automatic door operator in 1999. The original doors had to be pulled open manually, whereas the doors now close themselves when a call or floor button is pressed. Note also that for the 19 years from 1916 to 1935, everyone had to walk the steps up to the Lodge Room!

Master's Message

Greetings from the East. I have been bestowed with the honor for a second time to serve our Lodge in the capacity of Master. I hope that the Brethren's faith in me will not be misplaced and pledge to do my best to make this a successful year. I have been given a full complement of officers to assist me in running the Lodge including a Marshal, a position that has not been filled in our Lodge for quite some time. Our officers were installed on Saturday, November 18, followed by dinner at Gene's Place.

I plan on trying to liven up both our stated and special meetings with some activities and events that will be both fun and educational. We have some degree work coming up in all three degrees as we will attempt to get all of our present candidates all the way through the process of becoming full members.

Our annual Christmas Party for the children and grandchildren of Lodge members will be at 2:00p on Saturday, December 16, at the Masonic Temple. Further details will be available once all of the particulars are worked out. If you are planning to attend, please call me on my home telephone at 216.529.1254 to give me each child's name, age and sex.

Our Inspection this year will be on Thursday, February 8 in the Fellowcraft degree. Grand Lodge has made some changes in the Inspection procedure, the most significant being that we will open Lodge that evening only in the Fellowcraft degree and we will open at 7:00p instead of our usual opening time of 7:30p. This was done in an effort to eliminate late nights and to get everyone home at a reasonable hour.

In an effort to keep you better informed of schedule changes and emergent meetings such as Masonic funerals, we are collecting email addresses for our members. To add your address to our growing list, please email me at gwbvt@yahoo.com.

Brothers, I urge you to come out for as many meetings as possible. If you are in need of a ride or anything else, please don't hesitate to call any one of the other officers or myself. My home number is 216.529.1254. I'm looking forward to an exciting and productive year.

New Lodge Secretary

After two decades of faithful service Worshipful Brother Don Watson has retired as Secretary. In Don's stead Right Worshipful Brother John H. Whitehouse, Jr., was elected Secretary at our Annual Meeting. John's telephone number and email address can be found in the officer list to the right on this page. Future correspondence to the Secretary should be directed to the Masonic Temple address, 15300 Detroit Avenue, Lakewood, OH 44107-3888. These two dedicated brethren will be working together in a transitional period until the beginning of 2007.

Master's Message

Brethren, another autumn passes, as well as another exciting year in our Lodge. We raised numerous members, some of whom started in line.

For the year 2007 I will sit in the East which, as you know, is a privilege; and because of this I appreciate the trust you put in me. I will do my best to not disappoint you. But, by the same token, I ask for your help and co-operation. I expect this year to be successful for the officers and myself. By the way, I have the best officers. I mention this to you to make you somehow jealous, if not to come to our meetings and check for yourself. This year we hope to have social parties on Saturdays. We will notify you later. But the most important thing is that we expect to receive more petitions. All degrees will be announced on time so you can participate or enjoy observing them.

Finally, I will close with the Serenity prayer: "GOD grant me the SERENITY to accept the things I cannot change, the COURAGE to change the things I can and the WISDOM to know the difference."

Ann Rutledge Chapter #453 O. E. S.

Stated Meetings First & Third Wednesdays 1:30 p.m.

Matron's Message

Sisters and Brothers, as we begin our new term, Ann Rutledge's 86th year, John and I wish to thank you for the honors bestowed upon us to lead the Chapter into a new and exciting year! We shall indeed endeavor to work closely with the entire membership to keep our unique Chapter active, solvent and enjoyable.

This year's theme, "Life's Treasures," covers a broad spectrum of assorted topics that are but threads in the beautiful tapestries of our lives. Some things are obvious while others are perhaps obscure, yet affect our daily activities and attitudes. As pointed out at Installation, every member of our Order is a treasure in and of themselves—as are family and friends. All contribute to our ongoing successes!

As what is recently commonly referred to as "The Holidays" fast approach and pass please remember to give thanks for all blessings; share your good fortune with a hungry neighbor; and, for those of you who share the Christian faith, keep Christ in Christmas.

January of 2007 will find us reflecting on the past and looking forward hopefully and with faith to a good year better than the preceding. Each day is a blessing, and remember that "nothing is as constant as change."

I wish to impart to you two lifelong personal campaigns of mine to encourage you to (1) drink more water and (2) read more! Year-long projects will include Busy Bee sales, collecting and distributing books and talking books for northern Ohio's veterans' homes and selling Malley's candy bars.

A huge "Thank You" to Elinor Bayse for crocheting lap robes for the membership's use during untoward weather.

Stated Meeting Fourth Wednesday 7:30 p.m.

High Priest's Message

In a Chapter of Royal Arch Masons, we note that the High Priest wore a breastplate, known as an ephod. There are a dozen stones placed on the ephod. To appreciate their beauty, their symbolic significance and reputed magical properties, it would be a useful exercise to ascertain the modern gemstone referents. Having studied Biblical Hebrew and Attic (NOT Koine) Greek and having gemology for a hobby, I will share some recent thought which I have devoted to the subject, hoping you will find it of interest.

If we look at the MAJORITY of Biblical translations, the consensus is that those stones were sardius, topaz, emerald, emerald, sapphire, diamond, jacinth, agate, amethyst, beryl, onyx and jasper. The problem with this method is that emerald pops up twice. The first occurrence shows that the New American, New King James Version, Living, New American Standard, Revised Standard, New Revised Standard and New Jerusalem versions all show emerald, whereas King James and American Standard show this stone to have been the carbuncle (deep red garnet cabochon). The second occurrence has the King James, American Standard, Living and Revised Standard versions all showing emerald, whereas the New King James, New American Standard and New Revised Standard versions show turquoise; yet the New American and New Jerusalem versions show this stone to be a garnet. Clearly, something is lost in the translation.

The original Hebrew lists these stones as adamah, pitdah, bareqeth, nophek, sappir, yahalom, lashone, shbuw, 'achlamah, tarshish, shoham and yashpneh. The world's finest dictionary of Biblical Hebrew, the Hebrew and English Lexicon, written by BROWN, Francis, DRIVER, S. and BRIGGS, C. says that adamah means red, that pitdah, in Sanskrit, means yellow, that bareqeth means "sparkling or flashing" and indicates similarity to Sanskrit markata (emerald), yahalom means to smite, or hammer and then gives conjecture concerning sappir (sapphire?) and yashpneh (jasper?).

The translation of the stone list given for the ephod in Exodus 39:10-13 is based upon Rabbinic tradition and historical references rather than upon the Hebrew lexicon, in which definitions for most of these terms are not provided since the words are loan words from languages other than Hebrew. In this context, I point out that tarshish means "Tarsus," i.e. a Biblical site in modern Turkey.

Some have suggested that this list can be clarified in light of the stone list found in Revelation 21:19-20, which lists, in Koine Greek, the stones of the foundation of the city (which were probably the same as the set of stones in the Temple foundation as reported in Josephus) as iaspis, sappheiros, chaledon, smaragdus, sardonyx, sardius, chrusolithos, berullos, topazion, chrusopasus, huykinthus and amethystos. Koine Greek, being an Indo-European language and more modern than Biblical Hebrew, looks quite a bit like English, where equivalents could well be jasper, sapphire, chalcedony, emerald, sardonyx, sardius, chrysolite, beryl, topaz, chrysoprase, hyacinth (red zircon) and amethyst. Unfortunately, language changes over time. Iaspis, in Greek, once meant an orange stone (probably a red or cinammon colored zircon) and later, a blue stone, perhaps the sapphire. Sardius is a form of chalcedony, probably the variety now known as carnelian, which is orange to deep red in color. Chrysolite is olivine, one variety of which is known as peridot. Chrysoprase (literally "golden leek") is a translucent green or yellow stone, the green variety often seen as a simulant for jade. The color of jasper varies from brick red to brownish red. Chalcedony is a waxy, dull cryptocrystalline quartz varying in color from blue or grey to white.

Presumably, the lists in Exodus and Revelation refer to the same stones. To confound the matter, some Biblical scholars (this paragraph from Barclay's Study Bible) have said that jasper was not the modern opaque stone, but rather a translucent crystal, green in color. That the sapphire in question was not modern sapphire, but a sky-blue stone, flecked with gold, most likely lapis lazuli. They state that the chalcedony mentioned here had a green sheen like that found on a dove's neck or a peacock's tail. They say that the sardonyx was an onyx in which the white was broken by layers of red and brown. Sard received its name from Sardis, another Biblical site in Turkey, and was blood red in color. Pliny described this chrysolite as having a golden radiance, perhaps a yellow beryl or a golden jasper. Some scholars say that the beryl mentioned in the Biblical text was sea blue or sea green. They also say that the topaz mentioned here was a transparent greenish-gold stone. Ancient writers say that the jacinth was a violet or bluish-purple stone, perhaps what we now know as sapphire. They also say that the amethyst was similar to the jacinth, but more brilliant.

It should be noted that the zodiac attributes stones to each of the signs and the list is as follows: Aries-Amethyst, Taurus-Jacinth, Gemini-Chrysoprase, Cancer-Topaz, Leo-Beryl, Virgo-Chrysolite, Libra-Carnelian, Scorpio-Sardonyx, Saggitarius-Emerald, Capricorn-Chalcedony, Aquarius-Sapphire, Pisces-Jasper.

Commander's Message

Sir Knights, once again I wish you the best that life has to offer. We will have a full year including a Christmas Pageant on December 10 with ladies and children; on December 13 a library talk and practice for the Order of the Temple; and, tentatively speaking, on February 11 after practice a spaghetti dinner. I am aware that well laid plans go astray. Inspection will be March 17 with EGSB William Brady. I notice that some officers are not going to CTA and Inspections. This is a mistake because it is a learning session in itself. At this point in time we have two candidates, and plans are made for the Order of Malta. I plan on putting one through as soon as possible and the other for Inspection. These are my plans to April.

President's Message

Our Supreme Beauceant, held this year in Columbus, Ohio, is past. I, for one, had a very nice time. There was much to see and LEARN. The theme throughout the week long activities was "Pioneer Days." Cleveland Assembly #15 played an important part in the events. The breakfast for the first vice-president was enjoyed and was attended by ladies from six different states. It was a pleasure to meet them. The ladies of our Assembly were busy bees. Mrs. (Ronald) Donna Ebert made chocolate fudge for everyone that came to the breakfast. Mrs. (Edward) Edna Beiser brought Ohio grown red apples for everyone. Several ladies made cross holders for favors. Mrs. (George) Ellen Wadge took care of most of the signs, decorations and more for the whole week of Supreme. Our efforts were very much appreciated by all.

Our new Worthy Supreme President, Mrs. (David) Sonja Alcon, was installed. Mrs. Alcon is from Pennsylvania. She came to Lakewood Temple on November 8 to conduct our Inspection.

The heart is a garden
Kind thoughts are the roots
Kind words are the blossoms
Kind deeds are the fruits

Membership in Beauceant is now open to granddaughters of Knights Templar, along with wives, widows, mothers, sisters and daughters of Sir Knights. It is joyful news that this lovely organization can be shared by these ladies.

The Holidays are coming up quickly. May Christmas memories be ever fresh, ever joyful....ever lasting. I wish you the Blessings of Christmas, now and throughout the New Year.

Plan to attend our Christmas party on Monday, December 18, at 11:30a at the Western Reserve Masonic Community in Medina. Please bring an edible gift exchange of about $5.00.

This year is fast coming to an end. I sincerely thank you for this opportunity to have been your Worthy President for our Assembly. Best wishes to all of the new officers to be installed on Saturday, January 20, 2007, at 2:00p. Note also that the lunch bunch will meet again in January.
